Blake was born Deaf to a hearing family and raised in Ventura County, California. They graduated from California School for the Deaf, Riverside in 2005 and went on to Gallaudet University for their BA degree and a MA degree in school psychology. Blake currently works at Kendall Demonstration Elementary School in Washington D.C., as a school psychologist. Blake struggled with their gender identity for a really long time, until they discovered the term "non-binary". They identify as non-binary. They started their medical transition at 28 and had top surgery at 29 years old. Since February 2017, Blake has been doing vlogs in ASL on Instagram to spread more awareness about gender identity and their transition process.
